

Figure 4

A single section through the 3D tomogram of the mitochondrion used to create the model in Fig. 3. Examples of the various structural features are outlined, identified and enlarged to the left and right, along with their dimensions averaged from the complete tomograms of multiple mitochondria reconstructed in situ in neural tissue, brown adipose tissue and Neurospora crassa.