

Figure 11.11 Range of measured membrane permeabilities for different molecular species. Membranes are most permeable to water and least permeable to ions. (Adapted from R. N. Robertson, The Lively Membranes, Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 1983.)